Seek for Yourself DISCOVER FALL'S FLOWERS

“Autumn is a second spring when every leaf is a flower.”

- Albert Clamus

In Ulster County, fall isn't just a season—it's a symphony of color, crisp air, and mountain light. Wander winding trails through fiery forests, sip orchard-fresh cider, or lose yourself in a roadside antique find. From the peaks of the Catskills to the quiet warmth of a glowing hearth, every path leads to something vivid, warm, and real in Ulster County.

Letter From The Chamber President

It Pays To Be a Member!

One of the first questions a business owner will ask is the cost of membership in the Ulster County Regional Chamber of Commerce. While there is an initial expense, we explain that there will almost always be a return on investment.

We have proven time and time again that...

Chamber Membership is Effective Business Strategy

A national survey revealed that being active in a local chamber of commerce is an effective business strategy because two-thirds of consumers believe that those companies use good business practices, are reputable, care about their customers, and are involved in the community. If a company shows that it is highly involved in its local chamber, consumers are even more likely to think that its products stack up better against its competition.

Major Impact on Small Businesses

Small businesses represent the largest segment of our membership rolls, and the study indicates that chamber membership has consistent and powerful benefits for small business members. If consumers know that a small business is a member of its local chamber, the business enjoys:

- 68% increase in its local reputation
- 73% increase in consumer awareness
- 80% increase in the likelihood that consumers will patronize the business in the future.

While these statistics may seem surprising to some, they are not a shock to us. In fact, they are validation that there is real value in being a member of the Ulster County Regional Chamber of Commerce.

If this publication is your first exposure to the Ulster Chamber, I invite you to review the information about our nearly 1,000 members. They are the lifeblood of our local small business economy, so please support them by buying local and shopping local.

The Ulster Chamber Foundation offers a continuum of leadership programming. Leadership Ulster, the Foundation's signature program, enables participants to build and practice many critical leadership skills, meet community leaders, grow their own network, and explore board service opportunities. Sponsored by M&T Bank and Ulster Savings Bank.

The Youth Leadership Summit is an interactive one-day workshop open to all Ulster County high school students. Women in Leadership events encourage connections and mentorship between local women leaders and women in the region's business community. The Len Cane Memorial Scholarship Fund provides tuition assistance to eligible non-profit and small business Chamber members to attend Leadership Ulster. The Leadership Ulster Alumni Association provides ongoing networking, education, mentoring, and service recognition opportunities for Leadership Ulster graduates.

The Chamber Foundation, a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit, hosts programs dedicated to enhancing leadership development, business growth and interpersonal connections.

Accommodations

Good Z's for the win!

At the end of the day, what do travelers really want in a hotel experience? Since they're pretty much paying for sleep, it all comes down to a snuggly bed and cushiony pillow. Good hotels get this. They know that well-rested guests translate into happy guests eager to write stellar reviews on Google.

The Residence Inn by Marriott, at 800 Frank Sottile Boulevard in Kingston, delivers big time on the sleep experience, providing "unmatched comfort" for guests, according to Kelly Hamel, area director of sales.

"We offer that home-away-from-home feeling, so everyone will feel comfortable," she said.

Part of that is due to massive upgrades to the 92-room hotel in recent years. The redesign project was completed in 2024 and included updates to the guest rooms, with new bedding, wall coverings and carpeting.

The defining feature at Residence Inn is that all the rooms are suites designed for long-term stays. Hamel said they include studio, one-bedroom and two-bedroom suites—all of which have fully functioning kitchens stocked with pans, dishes and utensils so guests can cook their own meals. Each suite offers an open floor plan with separate living and sleeping areas as well as free Wi-Fi, LCD TVs and Netflix.

"If someone stayed with us prior to the redesign, they'll definitely notice the difference. It will feel like a whole new place. The rooms are nicer and brighter," she said.

Of course, the extras matter too, especially for prolonged stays. Residence Inn checks all the boxes with a fitness center, outdoor lounge area with firepits and a new amenity called "Pour My Beer," a self-serve tap system that allows guests to sample local beers and wines with a prepaid card. Hot continental breakfasts are also included every morning.

Other perks include laundry service and grocery delivery. A big selling point is that Residence Inn is pet-friendly, Hamel added.

"This is really a great place to stay when you come to the area for a long trip. Again, it just feels like home," she said.

The same holds true for other trusted hotel chains in Ulster County.

Rocking Horse Ranch, Highland

You know you're in good hands when you check into Hampton Inn by Hilton in Kingston and New Paltz, Courtyard by Marriott and Best Western Plus in Kingston, as well as Holiday Inn & Express, Howard Johnson Inn and Comfort Inn in Saugerties, to name a few.

If rustic lodging with hints of the Old West is more your thing, book your next vacation at the Rocking Horse Ranch Resort in Highland, a real humdinger of an experience guaranteed to satisfy your inner cowpoke.

"Rocking Horse Ranch combines the natural beauty of the Hudson Valley with the fun and excitement of an all-inclusive resort," said General Manager CJ Hartwell-Kelly. "Families can enjoy everything from horseback riding to winter sports to live entertainment—all in one place.

"What makes us truly special is that we bring together the best of both worlds: the charm of a Western-themed ranch and the convenience of an all-inclusive getaway, only 90 minutes from New York City."

Rocking Horse Ranch has been creating unforgettable family memories for more than 65 years, welcoming third and even fourth generations of guests who first visited as children, Hartwell-Kelly added.

"There aren't many destinations like Rocking Horse Ranch left on the East Coast. We've held onto that classic dude ranch spirit while evolving into a modern, all-inclusive family resort. Guests can still saddle up and ride just like in the old days, but they also enjoy a wide range of amenities and activities you won't find anywhere else in the region. That combination of history, tradition and innovation makes us a truly one-of-a-kind destination in the Hudson Valley," she said.

Other area hotels fitting that mold include the majestic Mohonk Mountain House in New Paltz, Hutton Brickyards, known for its luxury cabins along the Hudson River, and the Hotel Kinsley, a campus of stunning hotels in historic Uptown Kingston, Diamond Mills, a boutique resort and spa with waterfall views in Saugerties and Buttermilk Falls & Spa, offering luxurious lodging and a farm-fresh restaurant in Milton. For something really far-out, dig the Hotel Dylan in Woodstock.

We've got it all in Ulster County, and no matter where you lay your head for the night, we're confident you'll want to rave about it on Google.

Business & Industry

Lighting the way

Ulster County will always have a bright economic future with companies like Selux on its roster of manufacturers.

Selux manufactures high-performance interior and exterior architectural lighting and has expanded its 89,000 square-foot facility multiple times, boosting its local employment to 120 and contributing to the county's industrial growth. The Highland facility handles everything in-house including product design, testing, metal fabrication, and assembly. The company's customer support, lighting design services, sales, and marketing are also on site.

Selux, founded in Germany in 1948, has an impressive list of clients including the World Trade Center Memorial and Gansevoort Peninsula in New York City and SoFi Stadium in Inglewood, Calif. A little closer to home, the client list features Nuvance Health, Vassar Brothers Medical Center in Poughkeepsie, and the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park.

"Selux Corp. plays a valuable role in Ulster County's business community through job creation, workforce development, and local economic investment," said Lauren Gescheidle, marketing manager. "Selux also engages with local suppliers and participates in state and county economic development initiatives, reinforcing its commitment to the region. By investing in both its workforce and infrastructure, Selux supports the long-term economic vitality of Ulster County."

Continuing the local investment, Selux has recently made significant investments in its factory. Advanced machinery like a plasma cutter, a high-tech powder coat paint facility, and many other pieces have reduced the need for outsourcing on many steps in the manufacturing process, allowing for lower costs, lead times, and environmental impacts. LEAN

Selux Corp., Highland

Manufacturing and sustainable packaging practices have also helped bring Selux Corp. into the modern manufacturing world.

The company partners with educational programs like Ulster BOCES, Marist University, and SUNY New Paltz, offering internships, hiring select graduates, and helping to prepare local students for careers in advanced manufacturing.

With 90 acres of land, Selux has capacity for continued growth into the future.

Another company shining brightly on the local economy is RBW Factory, a lighting design and manufacturing company on Boices Lane in Kingston. The company, which boasts around 50 employees, moved here from Brooklyn in 2021 to expand and now takes up about 100,000 square feet.

"After four years of opening our state-of-the-art lighting factory in Kingston, RBW has discovered what makes Ulster County truly exceptional,” said Charles Brill, a managing partner at RBW. “We continue to find great local talent whose craftsmanship and dedication elevate our decorative LED designs, while also welcoming team members new to the area who quickly recognize what we’ve known all along — the Hudson Valley’s unique geographic position, rich creative community, and unparalleled quality of life make it the ideal homebase for an innovative lighting brand.

“Kingston isn’t just where we manufacture; it’s where we thrive, create, and grow alongside a community that values both artistry and enterprise.”

Ulster County’s economy has changed over the decades. No longer dependent on a larger-than-life corporation like IBM, we now count on small businesses and niche manufacturers that do business all over the globe with high-profile clients.

One of those is Howmet Aerospace, which manufactures and assembles fastener installation tooling for the industrial, aerospace and automotive industries right here in the Kingston Business Park. One of its neighbors at the park is Community Products, run by the local Bruderhof community in Rifton.

LHV Precast manufacturers precast concrete products and is the company behind many infrastructure products you pass every day.

Among the other manufacturers we’re proud to say come from Ulster County include Ametek Rotron in Woodstock, and Viking Industries in New Paltz,

JBT John Bean Technologies, R&F Handmade Paints, Bailey Pottery Equipment Corp, Community Manufacturing Solutions, and Krupa Brothers Pierogi Company in Kingston, Stainless Design Concepts, Northeast Solite, Markertek, Edwards SemiConductor Solutions in Saugerties, WineRacks.com and Usheco in Tillson, Optimum Window Manufacturing Corp in Ellenville, Amthor Welding Service in Gardiner, Fair-Rite Products in Wallkill, and Community Metalworks, in Marlboro.

With such luminous manufacturers contributing to Ulster County, the road ahead is not just bright. It’s ablaze with possibilities.

A Community That Cares

Looking out for each other

Jewish Federation of Ulster County – Fall for Art Show

We've got a huge heart in Ulster County. It's not just in our charitable giving but in the ways that we volunteer and lift each other in trying times. We engage, empower and empathize. It comes from a place of deep compassion rooted in our strong sense of community.

One of the organizations leading the way is the Jewish Federation of Ulster County. The nonprofit, established in 1978, is a community-building organization that "enriches Jewish life locally, nationally, in Israel and around the world by helping those in need and fostering Jewish values for the greater good," said Mark Grunblatt, president of the Jewish Federation of Ulster County.

In the spirit of Tikkun Olam (repairing the world through acts of kindness and community support), the federation supports various local nonprofits, including Circle of Friends for the Dying, MyKingstonKids, R.Y.A.N. and People's Place.

"Our holiest text, the Torah, calls each of us to help others," Grunblatt said. "Deuteronomy 15:7 and Leviticus 25:35 are most often cited to require generosity and compassion and ask us to strengthen the poor or unfortunate to self-sufficiency. The sages of the Talmud teach us that whoever saves one life has saved the entire world."

One of the federation's biggest events of the year is Fallforart.org, now in its 29th year. The week-long virtual art show spotlights the works of Hudson Valley artists. In a three-decade period, the event has raised close to $500,000 to support the federation, artists and local human service organizations.

The federation has also taken a lead role in supporting the Reher Center for Immigrant Culture and History, a state-chartered museum and community center in Kingston. In addition, it hosts an initiative called "PJ Library," a community program that enriches Jewish life locally; offers scholarships for educational purposes and summer camp experiences and promotes local synagogues and the Jewish community.

Another group that is making a lasting impact locally is the Ulster County Italian American Foundation. Formed in 2015 to preserve, promote and celebrate the Italian culture, the nonprofit has grown swiftly, and its mission to care for those less fortunate has taken on a life of its own.

Ulster County Italian American Foundation (UCIAF)

UCIAF's Community Care Program, born out of the pandemic, is the philanthropic arm of the nonprofit. Headed by Mary Tuma and a 40-member volunteer team, the program provides gift cards, clothing and household items to those in need. It also holds food drives to help agencies like People's Place restock their shelves, hosts monthly veterans' lunches to honor those who have served and participates in a highway cleanup project.

To date, the Community Care Program has donated close to $40,000 to those in need, which includes community grants to local nonprofits. Tuma said it's all rooted in the Italian tradition of caring for others and building a circle of deep and lasting friendships.

"What makes this my passion is not only the privilege of giving back and helping those in need but working alongside the most committed, energetic, compassionate, kind and dedicated members of my committee," she said. "They energize me. Without them, it would not be possible to accomplish our goals and help those in need."

It indeed takes a village to feed, clothe, shelter and nurture people of every age and demographic, and our nonprofits rise heroically to the challenge.

Career InTouch inspires youth to reach for the stars, while The Arc Mid-Hudson and Gateway Hudson Valley empower those with intellectual and other developmental disabilities to live their best lives. When it comes to mental health or addiction issues, People USA is there to provide healing and recovery.

Family of Woodstock, a mainstay in Ulster County, is there in crisis situations, helping with emergency food pantries, domestic violence services and childcare. The United Way of Ulster County works with other local agencies to address existing and emerging needs. Those looking to achieve the American Dream, find a pathway there from RUPCO.

And when it comes to our kids, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Ulster County, the Center For Creative Education and The Salvation Army step in with structured after-school activities and educational programs.

You could say we're pretty tightly knit in Ulster County. We care deeply, work tirelessly and serve selflessly. That is our badge of honor.

Education

Lifelong learning

Marist University, Poughkeepsie

It's Marist University now, not Marist College.

The college's Board of Trustees and the New York State Board of Regents both approved the name change and it became official last year, along with a new logo for the Poughkeepsie-based institution just over the Hudson River in Dutchess County.

"Marist has achieved remarkable success over the past several decades, transforming from a small regional college into a nationally and internationally renowned leader in higher education," President Dr. Kevin C. Weinman said. "Marist University better describes the breadth of opportunities we offer to students today and the vision we have for Marist's next century."

These are halcyon days for the university, which will mark 100 years in 2029. The newly renovated Dyson Center opened in 2024, and the $60 million project expands the square footage from 54,000 to 100,000.

"This has been a comprehensive renovation, essentially doubling the size of the original building," according to Anthony Proia, the university's Director of Media Relations. "The new facility features four full academic floors in a bright, comfortable, modern environment."

Meanwhile, the university is drawing national attention. The prestigious Princeton Review named Marist one of the "50 Colleges that Create Futures" and ranked it one of the top 25 most beautiful campuses and best athletic facilities. The Princeton Review praises Marist as a place that "empowers students to discover practical applications for their talents and interests through experiences that complement their classes and coursework." Marist boasts over 5,000 undergraduates and nearly 1,000 graduate students across its main campus, branch campus in Florence, Italy, and through a variety of online graduate programs.

"Our founding values and distinctive strengths will continue to shape our future as we define what university means to us, one aspiring to new heights while preserving the intimate, student-focused elements of a college," Dr. Weinman said.

Another special place for education in Ulster County is the Mount Academy, a private four-year high school owned and operated by the Bruderhof since 2012. The academy is housed in a sprawling granite castle perched above the Hudson River in Esopus and once housed Mount St. Alphonsus, a Catholic seminary and later a retreat center.

The Mount Academy offers a "rigorous academic program designed to challenge and inspire students while fulfilling the New York State Department of Education diploma requirements," according to its website, mountacademy.org.

In addition, the curriculum emphasizes "rigor, depth, and mastery of fundamentals," and all classroom instruction "seeks to instill respect, self-discipline and a strong work ethic," the website notes. Students are further encouraged to serve and care for others.

The Mount Academy, Esopus

A low student-faculty ratio and small class sizes create an environment where students can succeed, the website adds.

Ulster County's students succeed at all levels, from the earliest Pre-K learners to college.

Our strong public education system includes the Kingston, Onteora, Wallkill and Ellenville school districts. Meanwhile, Ulster BOCES (Boards of Cooperative Educational Services) relocated its Career Academies Center to iPark 87 last fall, a move involving 1,200 students and beginning a new era in education. Officials hope the move helps prepare a new generation of workers while working alongside area professionals.

"Our shared vision is to create a vibrant hub of learning and professional development, and a direct pathway into jobs through partnerships with employers," Ulster County Executive Jen Metzger said.

For those who choose college, the aforementioned Marist University is only one of several fine choices. The venerable Bard College is across the Hudson River in Annandale-on-Hudson.

Ulster County itself is home to two colleges, including four-year SUNY Paltz, an institution often lauded for its quality and affordability. SUNY New Paltz last year was ranked No. 7 in the list of top public schools in the Northeast in the 2026 edition of U.S. News & World Report's Best Colleges Rankings.

SUNY Ulster, a two-year community college in Stone Ridge, was named the No. 1 community college in the state in 2020 based on academics and its reasonable cost.

Specialized learning is another of our strong points. The Center for Spectrum Services teaches children on the autism scale, while Cornell Cooperative Extension and Woodstock School of Art impart valuable skills.

Health & Wellness

Leaving the Frenzy Behind

Years ago, Linda Dubilier left the bright lights of the city and the bling of the runway to find peace and purpose in the Catskill Mountains. The former fashion photographer who had captured the images of top models in a fiercely competitive industry, needed a serious reset, so she found her way to Woodstock.

Thus began the second chapter of her life, one that combined her deep yearning for tranquility and balance with her love for beauty. The page turned in 2023 when she debuted the Woodstock Spa, a luxurious oasis at the base of the Byrdcliffe Arts Colony.

"I put into this place what I would want as a client," Dubilier said. "We care about your wellness—inside and out—and your mental health. This is more about your personal experience. That's sort of what makes us unique."

Woodstock Spa offers a full range of holistic services that integrate physical, mental and emotional well-being. They include facials, massages, body scrubs, Reiki, sound energy healing and something called "Family Constellation Therapy," which combines psycho somatic practices with shamanism and energy work to reveal the roots of trauma in a person's life.

Dubilier believes that the art of pampering is as much about the setting as it is about the therapeutic treatments and comforting touch of her 30 master practitioners.

"As a creative person, I believe that part of being happy is having that visual stimulation," said Dubilier, who showcases the work of local artists inside and at an outdoor sculpture garden behind the spa. "Seeing beautiful things just makes you feel good. When you walk into a beautiful setting, you expect something good, and you experience something good."

That is what Dubilier has found in this glorious second chapter, and she gladly shares it with others.

"Wellness is about people coming into the spa and feeling like we genuinely care about them. That's what sets us apart. That's what this place is about."

Another restorative escape in Ulster County is the Emerson Resort & Spa in Mount Tremper. The full-service spa is not just ancillary to Emerson's lodging. For travelers and locals alike, it is a premier destination for treatments that its website (emersonresort.com) describes as "pure heaven on earth."

Emerson Resort & Spa, Mount Tremper

Heather Umhey, operations coordinator at The Emerson, said the head-to-toe services are "inspired by the earth's elements and enhanced by the tranquility of the Catskills."

"The Emerson Spa's treatments promote rejuvenation and relaxation, both integral to overall physical, mental and emotional health and well-being even more than most spas due to the inspiring beauty of the setting," she said.

The spa offers an extensive menu of facials, manicures, pedicures, individual and couples' massages as well as therapies rooted in ancient healing traditions.

Ulster County has plenty of other options to meet the growing demand for experiences that enhance well-being, and it goes beyond our world-class spas.

Whole Sky Yoga studio in Stone Ridge is a place to unplug, unwind and stretch yourself to the limit, while the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County offers something for the whole family from youth basketball to swimming lessons for all ages.

Want to exercise outdoors? Hudson Valley Ambition, a group fitness bootcamp, holds classes at local parks, fields and even the Kingston waterfront. You can also take your health craze to new heights at Mustangs Bouldering, a 9,000 square-foot climbing gym at the Kingston Plaza.

Even our drug stores and supermarkets cater to health-conscious consumers. Wellness RX in Phoenicia, America's first nonprofit community pharmacy, combines the traditional elements of a pharmacy with natural medicine. Grocery shoppers on a quest for organic and natural foods hit the jackpot at Mother Earth's Storehouse in Kingston.

Our health care system is also second to none with HealthAlliance Hospitals, a member of the Westchester Medical Center system, Ellenville Regional Hospital and Nuvance Health/NorthWell Health.

In Ulster County, health is wealth, and the businesses that promote it get extra high marks for keeping us at our best.

SEE WHAT YOU CAN GROW BESIDES A BEAUTIFUL GARDEN.

An amazing thing happens when you plant a seed. What grows is self-esteem, inner peace and a sense of accomplishment and joy.

Tourism

Discover our trails

“One touch of nature makes the whole world kin.”—William Shakespeare.

Ulster County’s stunning natural beauty can’t truly be appreciated through a car window.

You owe it to yourself to get out and walk the 77 miles of rail trails that wind through Ulster County, many with breathtaking view of the Hudson River, Ashokan Reservoir, and other natural wonders. In the quiet of a morning walk, the only sounds you’ll hear are the occasional bird and your own feet as you escape into the quiet.

“Our trails are certainly a reason why people come here and enjoy visiting here,” said Ulster County Tourism Director Lisa Berger. “You can’t discount that kind of economic development.”

Berger said the county’s rail trails are expected to grow to 120 miles in the next two years, expanding on a network that includes the Wallkill Valley, O&W, and Ashokan trails. The latter includes picturesque views of the Ashokan Reservoir, so bring your camera.

The Kingston Greenline includes the Midtown Linear Park, Kingston Point Rail Trail, and Hudson River Brickyard Trail giving hikers a gritty glimpse into Kingston’s industrial past.

Berger said many of the trails feature a less than 2 percent grade, which makes them accessible to people of all hiking and biking abilities. While the trails draw visitors here, they also are enjoyed by locals who find their backyard is their playground.

“It gives us a place to go for a walk or a run or a bike early in the morning before we go to work or at the end of the day,” Berger said. “It lets us play with our kids in safe places that are beautiful and protected.”

There’s also the Empire State Trail connection with Sojourner Truth Park in Esopus.

“It links people along the Hudson River and allows for a completely different view than what most of our rail trails are able to provide,” Berger said. “We’re fortunate that the Empire State Trail winds its way through Ulster County.”

Ulster County’s tourism business is booming and visitor spending in 2024

Rail Trail, Kingston

topped $1.1 billion, Berger said.

People come from all over the world to visit our quaint small towns and shops, rich historic sites, and four seasons of recreation ranging from skydiving to golf to hiking and biking among our 250,000 forever-wild acres.

In the fall, our busiest time, local farms are full of tourists, including Kelder’s Farm in Kerhonkson, Saunderskill Farms in Accord, and New Beginnings Farmstead in Kingston. Riding the rails on pedal-powered cars at Rail Explorers in Phoenicia will give you a leaf-peeping experience that rivals anything in Vermont.

Those looking for a fright later in the day often find their way to Headless Horsemen Hayrides and Haunted Houses in Ulster Park.

If jumping out of an airplane is on your bucket list, check out Skydive The Ranch in Gardiner.

In the winter, it’s not uncommon to

Sojourner Truth State Park, Kingston

see cars exiting the New York State Thruway with ski racks heading to Belleayre Mountain Ski Center in Highmount.

Ulster County is also blessed with a variety of historic sites, including the Hudson River Maritime Museum, which is in Kingston's Rondout section and spotlight's the city's boating and shipping past. The Reher Center for Immigrant Culture and History is just around the corner and will educate you on the immigrants who settled the Rondout.

The Volunteer Firemen's Hall and Museum in Uptown Kingston is a must-see for all history buffs, while the D&H Canal Historical Society in High Falls keeps alive the legacy of the canal's history of transporting coal from Pennsylvania to Ulster County and then New York City.

Meanwhile, as a destination spot for artists, writers and musicians, Ulster County also has its share of cultural events throughout the year like the Woodstock Film Festival. Folks are also drawn to the Bearsville Center, Woodstock Playhouse, Shadowland Stages in Ellenville, and the Ulster Performing Arts Center in Kingston.

On any given weekend, our streets, streams, and trails are full of people discovering what makes Ulster County worth the trip.
